MSC08-J. Do not store nonserializable objects as attributes in an HTTP session

This rule is a stub.

Noncompliant Code Example

This noncompliant code example shows an example where ...

Compliant Solution

In this compliant solution, ...

Risk Assessment

If nonserializable objects are stored as attributes in an HTTP session then ...

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Rule</th>
<th>Severity</th>
<th>Likelihood</th>
<th>Remediation Cost</th>
<th>Priority</th>
<th>Level</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>MSC08-J</td>
<td>Low</td>
<td>Probable</td>
<td>High</td>
<td>P2</td>
<td>L3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Automated Detection

TBD

Bibliography

[Fortify 2014] Fortify Diagnostic

HTTPSession J2EE Documentation [Note. This is a JavaEE 5 reference. I cannot find the corresponding API in Java 7.]